Dr. CURDY, the new United States Minister to Spain, presented his credentials to Queen Christina at Madrid on the 22d. He expressed to her the wish that the commercial relations between the two countries would speedily be placed on a mutually satisfactory basis. The Queen Regent expressed her wish for a closer business friendship between Spain and the United States. The general impression in Madrid was that the commercial treaty, which had been so long delayed, could be negotiated with little difficulty.

A RECENT dispatch from Washington says: Randall, Hewitt, Crisp, Hiscock, Phelps and Reed, composing the Ordnance Commission appointed during the last session of Congress, will report to the House of Representatives soon after the holidays that all the steel needed for armor plates, either for ships or land fortifications, and all the steel ingots needed for the manufacture of guns for the army or for coast defenses, can be manufactured in this country. They will also recommend that the necessary appropriations for the work be made at once.

Terrible Scene at a Christmas Entertal ment in Chicago. CHICAGO, ILL., December 26.-Yesterday afternoon about four o'clock all the patient in the county hospital who were able to be moved, all the nurses and doctors and a number of visitors assembled in the clinical amphitheater of the hospital to witness room is very small, about thirty feet long and filled with seats reaching almost to the ceiling. In the center was an immens Christmas tree laden with toys and gaily illuminated with tapers. About forty children were grouped about the tree singing a Christmas carol to open the exercises. As Santa Claus entered the room the upper portion of the tree took fire and in a moment the entire tree was ablaze. When the fire was at its height, most of the chil-dren were marched out of the room by the lower door and the remaining people in the room, nearly three hundred i came panic-stricken. The heat and flames cut off exit by the lower door. There was a rush for the upper door, the only remaining exit, and a few escaped through it, but the passage was soon blocked. Volumes of dense black smoke soon collected in the upper part of the room, where the mass of humanity was crowding and screaming first from fright and then from agony—for the heat was terrible. A scene of inde-scribable terror ensued. The heat blistered the faces and hands of the victims, and one man's beard took fire. Great suffering was caused by inhaling the heated atmosp The fire burned until the Christmas tree was stripped. Order was finally restored. No one in the room escaped injury and about fifty persons were badly burned, among them two reporters. At six o'clock the doctors, themselves badly singed, had cared for the wounded and the excitement had subsided. Cries of fire had gone through all the wards of the hospital, and for a time there was consternation among the patients. A later survey of the situa-tion shows that at least one hundred per-sons were injured, the greater part receiving bruises by being trampled upon by their panic-stricken neighbors. A number of children patients had been brought into the chapel in their cots. Before they could be removed several suffered from the smoke and fright, and one or two were slightly burned. The excitement was intense and but for the coolness of Warden McGarrigle and some attaches of the hospital lives would certainly have been lost. CONSUL MUELLER.

Allowing Consuls to Express Their Free

WASHINGTON, December 26. - The recent report of Consul General Mueller, which has caused so much comment, was not seen by Secretary Bayard until he read it in the newspapers. He was interested in it as an item of information and news, but officially he did not concern himself about it. "Mr. Mueller is a very competent and efficient official," said Governor Porter, Assistant Secretary of State. "Since his appointment in May last he has answered very ably and very satisfactority all the calls made upon him. There was nothing unusual in the matter of his reports. He took no unwarrantable liberties and vice." took no unwarrantable liberties and vio lated no principle of diplomacy. It is not only his right but his duty ro discuss and report everything that may affect the com-merce of this country, as far as his ob-servations extend, and he is an observant man, far-seeing and of keen insight. Be yond question, the Consul's comments will be reproduced in the newspapers of Frankfort-on-the-Main. It is easy to understan that some of the people of that city will not be favorably impressed with them. The men with whom he comes in contact there may thus be led to turn the cold shoulder on him; but beyond a little so-cial coldness, the publication can not operate to his prejudice. It is not understood by Governments to be the duty of a consul to sulogize the Government of the country in which he is stationed; neither is it his duty to withhold his free cpinions. A German consul in this country chloroformed by burglars and robbed of the principles of our Government as senot deny his right to hold and ex-press them. It is not to be expected that all the consular reports sent to foreign Govern ments by agents in this country are couched in terms of praise and admiration and unbounded friendship for our interests and our ways. I have no doubt that some Ger man consuls in this country indulge in criti-cism as free as that of Mr. Mueller. The
